RACTC Expectations for School Events: School Year 2024-2025

Throughout the school year, RACTC provides a range of opportunities for students and families to gather as an important means of building community and exploring educational and social opportunities throughout the state. Face-to-face events with teachers and staff serve to further develop a positive connection to the RACTC community. These Hands-On events are to be considered an extension of the classroom and all school policies and procedures will be in effect throughout the duration of all school-sponsored outings or events. Unwanted behavior deemed cause for discipline in a typical school may be cause for exclusion from RACTC activities and/or disciplinary action.

Parents/guardians are responsible for any costs incurred while attending these events. This includes, but is not limited to transportation, entrance fees, and meals.

Other Allergies

Students with known allergies (food or drug) must report these on the Outing Permission Form under medical conditions in order to attend these Hands-On events. While we are aware of several common allergies (such as peanuts and chocolate), it is necessary for us to be aware of all potential risks for our students. In order to ensure the safety of all of our students, it is imperative for our staff to be aware of all allergies. If a sibling or parent will be attending these Hands-On events and has a known allergy, please inform your Learning Coach/Administration, so that we can ensure the health and safety of all participants.
